Since December 2019, University Mennonite congregation has been helping to support a Good News Seminary lecturer, Rachel Pauline Aikins, as she completes requirements to obtain a doctoral degree. She is a single mother of 2 sons in college and a daughter in high school. Her area of research is “the role and contribution of Inter/Nondenominational churches to world Christianity with special concentration on Ghana.” Through email exchanges, she shares freely of her faith and expresses deep gratitude for the support UMC has provided.
